GENERAL MAHONE AGAIN

HE ISSUES THAT GREAT ADDRESS.

Reviewing the Causes of the Recent Democratic Victory in Virginia--From a Readjuster Standpoint--Interesting.

PETERSBURG, Va., Nov. 19.--The long-promised address of Senator Mahone to the Readjuster party, on the results of the recent election in this State, was made public last night. The document contains fully five thousand words, and is evidently intended for the people of the United States, as well as to the party to whom it is addressed. The salient points are as follows: "To the Readjuster Party of Virginia: "When a dominant party, organized around great and enduring principles, and composed of a decided majority of voters in a State, is suddenly overwhelmed and made to appear a minority, it is of the highest consequence that every member of the party should inform himself whether that result has been brought about by a free and honest expression of the popular will; and if so, which of its avowed principles has become obnoxious to the majority, or, if all are still adhered to, which of them has been betrayed by those entrusted with the great duty of applying and enforcing them in the government of the State."

"When the Bourbon faction assembled in Lynchburg in July last to formulate a platform, a large element of its membership avowedly and openly favored the adoption of the color line. Bourbon journals proclaimed that the true issue of the canvass was the race issue, and that the contest should be forced into a struggle between the whites and the blacks. That such a plank would be incorporated into the platform adopted seemed highly probable, until the final action taken developed the fact that, for reasons best known to themselves, the Bourbons had determined not to make written proclamation of their purpose to draw the color line. Even the most moderate Bourbon did not pretend that this failure to draw the color line in the platform sprung from lack of purpose so to do, but it was admitted on all hands that it had not been formally adopted from motives of policy. The temporary chairman of the Convention addressed himself to 'the white people of Virginia.' The progress of the canvass developed an organized system of duplicity practiced by our opponents, whereby, in black districts, they appealed to the blacks for support on the ground that our party gave them no recognition and used them as mere tools and catspaws, while at the same time, in white districts their appeals were made to every prejudice of race to save the whites from an alleged purpose, on our part, to elevate the blacks above them. Sensational circulars from Danville, Cumberland and elsewhere filled with false statements of wrongs and outrages committed by blacks; cartoons depicting negroes punishing white children; pictures of negro men, with a white child on one knee and a black child on the other, infamous perjuries as to the utterances of our public speakers and lies, great and small, calculated to influence race prejudice, were spread broadcast through the white districts of the State, backed by corruption money without stint, while they were studiously suppressed in the black districts and their absence supplied by a double fund of money to 'buy or bully' the blacks. The massacre in Danville is dignified by Bourbonism with the name of riot. The facts, as gathered from all sources, are that upon Saturday evening preceding the election, just after the Danville negroes had received their weekly pay and were buying their Sunday supplies in a crowded market place, a white man had an altercation with a negro and whipped him. The fight was ended and no other negroes came to the rescue of the punished man, but the programme was not interrupted by this circumstance. An armed gathering of the 'best people' and of the 'best and bravest' was conveniently near, and in a moment a murderous throng poured out of the building where they were assembled, opening a deadly fire upon the unarmed, defenseless and flying negroes. How many were killed no one knows, and no one will probably learn the truth, for the condition of things still in Danville is such that the truth cannot be learned. That they were shot in the backs like dogs while running away; that no pistol shot was fired by a black man; that no white man was injured, save by his own friends; that for days the poor victims were found dead in alleys, in warehouses, and under houses, like poisoned rats that had crawled away to die; that the negroes fled to the woods, to the State of North Carolina, to the four winds of heaven; these are a few of the facts of this bloody far and near by Bourbons as an insolent uprising of the blacks against the whites. Simultaneously with these occurrences the crack of the Bourbon weapon engaged in political murder re-echoed. The effects were all that the bulldozers could have hoped for. In the city of Danville, where Cameron received, in 1881, votes numbering 789, and Wise, in 1882, received 841 votes and where 1,379 Readjuster votes were enrolled, but twenty-five votes were cast for the Coalition candidate, whose life was threatened and whose coffin, it is said, had been actually made and paid for by the party of honor and influence. * * * I repeat, therefore that the struggle against Bourbonism must be renewed forthwith and that it is a struggle to the death, and as your Chairman, I call upon every loyal Readjuster to rally to the standard and reform to fight anew the battle against their old Bourbon foe in the national campaign of 1884, bearing in mind the old watchword of a 'free ballot and a fair count.' We have a right to demand and expect support from the State, and, if need be, from the Federal Government, in behalf of the rights of man, guaranteed by both Governments, and put at stake to procure the ascendancy of an unscrupulous party that sticks at nothing to acquire power. WILLIAM MAHONE, Chairman.

"PETERSBURG, Nov. 14, 1883."

Damage From High Tides.
HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 19.--Telegrams from various points in Kings county report the tides in the rivers during the past week to have been the highest since the great storm of fifteen years ago. Much destruction has resulted, whole dikes being carried away in some places and hundreds of acres of land and large quantities of salt hay washed away.

BRUTAL MURDER.

Shooting a Defenseless Old Man in Cold Blood.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Nov. 19.--An unprovoked and singularly atrocious murder was committed last night at Mill Hollow, a small village a few miles from here. During the evening three or four roughs entered a saloon, and after drinking, began a disturbance. A lively row ensued, in which beer glasses and bottles were used and several pistol shots fired, though no one was seriously hurt. The roughs were finally ejected and congregated on a bridge which spans a little creek close by the saloon. While they were standing there John Clair, Superintendent of the Weddell Mines, of Mill Hollow, passed by. He is an old gentleman, well known throughout the whole country, and well respected. As he passed the crowd of roughs they assailed him with a storm of jeers and abuse, and one of the gang, named Dennis Keller, shouted to him to go faster or he would shoot. Clair, not thinking that the roughs would carry out his threat, replied good humoredly: "Fire away, Dennis." The words were scarcely out of his mouth when Keller drew his pistol and fired four shots in rapid succession at the defenseless old man. Every shot told. One wounded him in the forehead, another in the abdomen, another in the arm. One shattered his thigh. Clair was brought to the hospital in this city, where he died last evening. Keller was arrested and lodged in jail. The excitement in Mill Hollow last night was intense, and had Keller fallen into the hands of the miners he would probably have been lynched, as threats were openly made.

PRINTERS' STRIKE.

The American Press Association Refuses to be "Looted."

CINCINNATI, Nov. 19.--A committee from the typographical union ordered a strike in the American Press Association office, this city, this afternoon, on the ground that the type should be measured minion, although the type used is brevier and more than up to the regulation standard of "fatness." It is claimed that the type should be measured minion, because its face is smaller than regular brevier. The Association has always paid the highest prices in the city, having voluntarily raised the price for composition to 42c. per thousand several months ago, which is two cents more than is paid anywhere west of New York. The unreasonable demand was promptly refused, and several of the men were indicted on such grounds. The alleged cause is probably but a subterfuge, while the real object is an effort to cripple the numerous interior daily newspapers depending on the Association for their telegraphic news service, which papers are materially affecting the circulation and profits of the Cincinnati dailies. The Association will not be crippled but a few days at the most.

Special Weather Bulletin.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.--Fair weather prevails in all districts except Montana, where light snow is reported, and on the North Pacific Coast, where there are light rains. Temperature remained about stationary in the southern States, with southerly to westerly winds. Colder northerly winds are reported from the Upper Missouri Valley and north of Dakota and Montana. A cold wave has appeared in British America north of Montana, where the temperature has fallen twenty degrees and is near zero. The indications are that the temperature will rise slowly in districts on the Atlantic coast Tuesday, with generally fair weather from Southern New England southward to Florida. Colder partially cloudy weather will prevail in the Lake Region in the northwest on Tuesday, or Tuesday night, with light rain or snow. The temperature will rise slowly in the Gulf States on Tuesday with local rains in west portions.

Fighting in North Africa.

CAIRO, Nov. 19.--A Jeddah letter received here repeats the report of the death of the British Consul at Monrovia, in the Sudan, and the almost total annihilation of his force of five hundred men, but fourteen of them escaping. Another tribe has revolted, and the situation is daily becoming more critical. Hicks Pasha must return unless he can receive reinforcements from Sir Evelyn Wood immediately. The whole movement has been instigated by slavers. The fact that no news has been received from Hicks Pasha has caused considerable alarm, and it is feared that disaster has befallen him.

Fighting with the Africans.

LONDON, Nov. 19.--Advices from the British fleet on the West Coast of Africa state that recently 150 English sailors went up the Niger to pursue the natives at different points on that river for outrages upon explorers and traders. After shelling the town of Abok, at the head of the Delta, they ascended to Egga, a large town 300 miles from the mouth of the Niger. Here they landed and were at once attacked by the natives. A fierce fight ensued in which three seamen were killed and several wounded. The attacking party of natives were driven to the bush and the sailors returned to the fleet.

The Pope Gratified.

ROME, Nov. 18.--The Pope has expressed much satisfaction over the recent proclamation of Orange meetings in Ireland by the British Government. He attributes this action to the efforts of Mr. Errington, the British representative at the Vatican, and has personally thanked that gentleman. Father O'Callaghan, rector of the English College at Rome, has been appointed domestic prelate to the Pope.

German Peddler Murdered.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Nov. 19.--A German peddler named Henry Steffer has been murdered near Trenton, S. C. Wilson Stephens, a young colored man who drove Steffer's wagon, has been arrested. The shoes, clothing and money of the murdered man were found in his possession. Stephens has confessed the crime. It is feared that the murderer will be lynched.

Disease Among Sheep.

MONTREAL, Nov. 19.--Dr. McEachren, Dominion Government Inspector of live stock, has prevented the shipment to Liverpool of two thousand sheep from Ontario on finding fourteen of them afflicted with scab. Some shippers here have lost large sums lately through this disease having infected the flock and prevented shipment.

FAIR WORSHIPERS!

Who Pay Homage, in a Respectable Way, to King Gambrius.

A Quiet Neek Where Boston Dames and Dames Go to Sip Their Beer and Fuff the Cigarette.

"Neek," a correspondent of The St. Paul Pioneer Press writing from Boston says: "I made a discovery the other day that rather surprised me, and at the same time set me to thinking. This discovery was nothing less than a saloon where throughout the day and evening thirty female souls congregated in large numbers and pay all homage due to glorious King Gambrius. Women in bar-rooms is not an uncommon sight in Boston, but a beer saloon entirely supported by respectable women--and there is no doubt as to the respectability of most of them--has, up to the present time, been quite unknown here."

"I stepped inside, when, to my astonishment, a vision, not altogether of loveliness, but one of femininity burst upon me. The place was not large, but there were some two dozen ladies of all ages and positions in life present, sitting at tables and guarded by mugs of foaming lager beer, which they were busily engaged in drinking. Upon my entrance the hum of conversation had ceased, and two down pair of eyes, some bleared, I am sorry to say, were turned upon me. Finding that I was safe in the clutches of the water girl, they soon returned to their beer and cigarettes."

One-half the ladies were gently puffing away at cigarettes in a manner quite proper. Some of them were expert enough to blow pretty little rings of smoke that sailed up into the air, and, watched by the fair maker, broke and then disappeared. At two of the tables the smoke was so thick as to almost hide the faces of the smokers. I was greatly amused in watching one of the ladies taking her first lesson in smoking. She put the cigarette daintily between her red lips and touched a match to it as if she was afraid it would explode like a fire-cracker, "pulled" away, at it with all her strength. But she was inexperienced and "pulled" too hard, for the smoke went down into her lungs, choking her and causing considerable commotion for the time being.

Such chattering and bursts of laughter! It was talk, talk, talk, singularly and collectively, with no intermission for rest. And the subjects. They reached from religion and fashion to art and politics. Each related her experiences while shopping the day, and told of the great bewilderment she might have obtained if she only had the money. The latest gossip was related in the most interesting manner, with spicy personal comments. All present seemed to be convivial spirits. I noticed the manner in which they disposed of their beer. They did not pour it down their throats man fashion, but sipped it as one would wine.

Another thing I noticed was that each paid for her own refreshment, and that "treating" evidently was not popular with them. None seemed ill at ease, and, on the contrary, appeared to be quite at home. Two glasses was about the limit of individual indulgence, although I saw one stout matron dispose of five beers in comparatively quick succession. There was no boisterousness, rough expressions or actions, and, to tell the truth, they were as well behaved as if they were attending a tea party. The majority of them were of the better class, and I saw but one who appeared "off color." Americans predominated. All were well dressed, many of them wearing costly silks and valuable jewelry. Some were undoubtedly mothers, their daughters of well-to-do people. They came and went, bidding good-by to friends, and promising to see them at some later day in the same place. They generally came in pairs, and seating themselves at a table, would have a sign of thankfulness for at least being able to sit down and rest, and would then order a "Boston" or an "after tea." An "after tea" I found to be a small glass of beer, while a "Boston" was a little larger.

Occasionally a dame of mature years would call for a little claret or sherry, and I am sorry to say that one of the women ordered a gin fizz. This one, however, was the girl who was a little "off color." Lunch was frequently ordered with the beer. Men with female companions also dropped in, and occasionally a lone representative of the sterner sex made his appearance, and was cared for after the same manner as I had been. There is one thing I can say truthfully, in addition to what I have already related, and that is that the beer was of the best quality. Perhaps this is one reason that the place is so popular with the women. But in my opinion the time will come before long when bar-rooms for the exclusive patronage of women will be quite common. I am led to believe this from what I have seen and from statements recently made by a prominent physician of this city. This gentleman has a large practice among the upper classes, and it was with every appearance of sincerity that he told me a short time ago that drinking among women was alarmingly upon the increase. He has several wealthy patients whom he treats for dyspepsia, or in other words, for tippling.

TERRIBLE EXPERIENCE.

Lost in the Maine Forests During the Recent Gale.

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 19.--Fin Butterfield tells a thrilling story of his experience in the Maine woods during Monday's gale. He was on a hunting expedition with Smith West and two companions, and last Monday was encamped at the headwaters of the Pleasant River, ten miles south of the Moosehead Lake. The wind blew some in the morning, but about noon the gale began. Their camp blew away and the giants of the forest began to fall like rain. Tuesday morning they started to get out of what was woods when they were met by a gang of men who had been started in after them, but had only cut a path of five miles in that time. The scene beggared description. Men whose fortunes were in the forests were ruined in a few hours. One man had four yoke of oxen and five pairs of horses at a camp in the devastated region, all of which had to be killed as they could not be brought out, nor could food be got to them. The party had an experience which money could not hire them to go through again.

A Japanese Schoolhouse.

[Yokohama Letter.]

Beside the clear, crystal waters of a running stream and surrounded with lilies, we noticed what we thought to be a schoolhouse and curiosity prompted us to ask admittance. There were some fifteen children in the room, which was furnished with long, plain tables. There appeared to be no check upon the children, who were moving about and conversing with each other. The master was teaching the smaller ones the characters of written language by writing them on a blackboard and requiring them to repeat the sounds indicated by them. Some were engaged in writing upon their slates, others in arithmetical calculations and others in reading and committing to memory from text-books. There seemed to be an entire freedom from restraint, and we are surprised at the happy and contented manner in which they pursued their studies. Bright and intelligent little fellows they looked, and from what we have seen of the youth of Japan we are convinced that there is much to be expected from them.

THINK THEY HAVE HIM.

Arrest of the Supposed Long Island Murderer.

WEEKS STATION, Nov. 19.--W. H. Simon, son-in-law of Mr. Garrett Mayne, has just arrested, aided by his father, a tramp near Weeks Station. The prisoner corresponds with the description of the man for whom the whole country has been in search since the awful tragedy of last Saturday evening. The tramp was turned over to policeman Gildersleeve, of Roslyn. On being searched $21.80 were found on his person. He will be taken to Brookville immediately and confronted with the corpses, when, if he is guilty, it is hoped he will betray himself. If his guilt is established, it is thought he will be lynched.

Unsuccessful Panel Game.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Nov. 19.--The Walter Emerson concert troupe gave an entertainment here Saturday evening. Last evening, Walter Emerson, who is a noted comic player, left the Vanderbilt House shortly after dark for a walk. In Jefferson street he met Mrs. Thomas M. Fay, and after a "flirtation" she invited him to her rooms, alleging her husband was out of town. Mr. Fay suddenly appeared on the scene and demanded satisfaction and a war of words followed. Emerson accused Fay of putting up a blackmailing scheme. Fay demanded a settlement of the case. Emerson, however, seemed so determined that he was allowed to leave the house. He reported the matter to the police who arrested Mrs. Fay. Mr. Fay escaped and Emerson did not press the matter and Mrs. Fay was only charged with street strolling and fined $25.

Burning of the Steamer Paristot.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 19.--About daylight the steamer S. H. Paristot was burned. The Paristot was on her way to New Orleans with a cargo of cotton, oil-cake, seed and thirty-five kegs of powder. When about eight miles above Natchez just below Good Hope landing, some of the cotton was discovered to be on fire. The pumps were at once put to work without sounding an alarm, but the fire had too much headway. The alarm was sounded and the boat headed for the Louisiana shore. Nearly all the passengers were asleep, but were quickly roused. They were none too soon, for before the crew had got them safely off the lines were burned in two, and the boat, enveloped in flames, drifted into the current. Just after she left the bank the powder exploded, tearing the stern out. The loss on boat and cargo will not be less than $25,000.

Suicided in the Ice.

WATERLOO, Ia., Nov. 19.--About 11 o'clock yesterday two boys fishing in the Cedar river, about three-fourths of a mile from town, saw something in the ice, which upon investigation proved to be the body of the missing woman, Mrs. N. L. Sholes, wife of the Express Agent and Deputy Postmaster at Waverly, who disappeared from her home last Monday night. The inquest developed that Mrs. Sholes, laboring under temporary insanity, committed suicide. She had been sickly for some time. This, together with the sensitiveness over anonymous letters received by her in regard to her husband, led her to take her life. She was fifty-two years old, had been married thirty years, and leaves five children.

Fatal Fight Among Gamblers.

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.--A special from Denver, Col., says that at midnight seven faro dealers from leading gambling houses were playing poker in a negro barber shop. A quarrel arose and five shots were fired. Jack Weideman, a notorious dealer, formerly from Ohio, was shot dead. All the participants escaped, except Bill Weagan, who claimed that the shot was fired by Jim Yergor, alias "Texas." The latter can't be found. The dead man was known to the gambling fraternity throughout the West.

The Books of the Akely.

GRAND HAVEN, Mich., Nov. 19.--A box containing the books and papers of the propeller Akely was found ten miles north of South Haven. The bodies of John Kingstons, John Eabbitt, and two deck hands came ashore at Saugatuck. The remains of Kingstons will be sent to Port Colborne, Ont., and those of Eabbitt to Spring Lake.

The Georgia Ku Klux.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19.--Mr. Mark A. Harden, clerk of the Georgia Legislature now here, in an interview says that the persons recently convicted as Ku Kluxing in that State were of the lowest class and had for years been looked upon as dangerous people by the community in which they lived and operated.

A Whack at Chicago Editors.

[Boston Herald.]
The able Chicago editor who said that no man who had been chosen vice president was ever after elected president had probably never heard of John Adams or Thomas Jefferson or Martin Van Buren, for each of those men was chosen to the presidency after having held the second office. But it is not required that a man should know anything of our political history to edit a Chicago paper. If he is posted on Carter Harrison and can abuse St. Louis he will do.

Life of Pety an so quiet dat res' d homes ob de aged wen an' sof an gone on de eyes an' de chilbians ha' so dat wen ye har de fiddle yo' can't sarve de debil no longer.

THE NATION'S WEALTH.

REPORT OF COMPTROLLER KNOX.

Interesting Facts, Figures and Statistics Concerning the Banks and Banking of the United States--A Good Showing.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19.--A portion of the annual report of the Comptroller of the Currency Knox has been made public. It shows that the amount of United States bonds held by the national banks and by banks organized under State laws, and by private bankers in twenty-two States on November 1, 1883, was $341,742,909. From data relating to unredeemed bank notes which has been carefully compiled, the Controller estimates that the gain which will arise from the loss of unredeemed notes of National banks, will be from one to one and one-half per cent. on notes, having a circulation of twenty years. A table is given showing the amount of capital deposits, and capital invested in bonds by private bankers in sixteen of the principal cities of the country. The total number of private bankers in these cities is 749, with an aggregate capital of $66,866,845, and aggregate deposits of 104,445,388, the average capital being $89,943, and the average deposits $139,446. About sixty-eight per cent. of these private bankers are located in New York City, representing more than three-fourths of the aggregate capital and over one-half of the aggregate deposits. In the city of New York the average amount of capital is $102,889 and deposits, $169,814 for each private banker, and the bankers in that city also held $7,923,545 of United States bonds, or over one-half of the amount of such bonds held by all of the private bankers of the country.

A table is presented which gives similar information for the thirty-four States and Territories (exclusive of these sixteen principal cities) of the private banks having a capital in excess of $100,000. In this table the number of private bankers is placed at 2,611, and the aggregate amount of capital $38,533,964, and of deposits $131,270,757, the average capital being $14,238 and the average deposits $50,809. The Savings Banks deposits of 630 banks for 1883, based upon reports made to State authorities, are $1,024,856,787, and the deposits of the State Banks and Trust Companies were $50,374,217. Those returns do not include bank deposits. The deposits of the National banks on October 2, 1883, inclusive of those due to banks, were $1,653,601,133. These deposits of the National banks bear to those of the Savings banks the proportion nearly of one to forty-nine, and to those of the State banks and Trust companies the proportion of sixty-eight to thirty-two, and to the combined deposits of both the proportion of forty-one to fifty-one. The number of open deposit accounts of Savings banks in the New England States is $1,363,907. The average amount of each account is $331.55, and if the total deposits were divided among the entire population the average sum of $113.17 could be given to each individual. The deposits of the savings banks in the State of New York were $412,147,213, while the population is 5,093,871, showing that an equal distribution of the saving bank deposits among the entire population of the State would give $81.08 to each individual.

A Wealthy Farmer Swindled.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 19.--A forgery amounting to nearly $2,000 committed early in the week, was discovered here today. On Tuesday a stranger representing himself as an agent for Fort, Johnson & Co., stock dealers here, negotiated here for the purchase of a car-load of cattle of Eli Swackhamer, a wealthy farmer of Clinton County, offering in payment a check for $1,845 on Fletcher & Churchman's bank here, signed by the firm. Swackhamer telegraphed to the bank regarding the form of credit, and the answer came back: "Fort, Johnson & Co. are good for any amount." The cattle were accordingly delivered and brought to this city, where they were sold to the firm for $1,830, and the seller skipped. To-day the farmer discovered that the check was a forgery, and a very clumsy one at that. The swindler gave the name of John Ziegler. Nobody here has any idea who he is or where he came from.

No Reprieve.

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 19.--Governor Ludlow has sent a formal refusal to reprieve John Chishelm, who is sentenced to be hanged on November 23, although the time asked for was three weeks. "There is nothing in the case to warrant any interference by the Executive by reprieve or otherwise."

Counselor Kalish announces his intention of resorting to the Court of Pardons, which meets on Tuesday, but it is not likely that that appeal will have any effect, since the Governor has an absolute power of veto over that body's action, which he has exercised on two previous occasions. Chishelm shot in cold blood through a window the wife whom he had abused brutally and deserted, and he is sentenced to be executed on Thursday next, November 23.

A Persistent Lawbreaker.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Nov. 19.--R. D. Arthur, who is in trouble in Chickasaw county for using canceled postage stamps, is the most persistent criminal in Iowa. He has a record for swindling, forgery and burglary. There he was given ten years for forgery. His mother secured a conditional pardon from Governor Kirkwood, but Arthur got drunk before he left Fort Madison. Returning, he swindled a Fort Madison Newbold out of a large sum. Governor Newbold had him taken back to prison. A susceptible district judge released him on habeas corpus proceedings, but on an appeal to the Supreme Court the Attorney General had him again incarcerated.

The Tennessee Accident.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 19.--The following are the names of the killed and injured by the passenger train collision near Bradford, reported in these dispatches: Killed--Peter Harris, a porter; Coburn, telegraph repairer. Seriously injured--John Smalley, engineer northbound train, S. McIntyre, express messenger; Crutty, Truly and Coleman, mail agents; three unknown colored men, slightly injured; Jack Allen, engineer of the down train; Mrs. E. A. Burke and ten other passengers. Several of the latter have broken limbs.

THERE is talk again of the mediation of England in the Tonquin trouble.

THE decrease in the public revenue the past fiscal year is estimated at $40,000.

It is stated that the Vatican has consented to appoint a Nuncio to the United States, in accordance with the wishes of the American Bishops now in Rome.

ANNA DICKINSON will take to the platform again. She will lecture under the auspices of the Knights of Labor, and will keep it up until after the next Presidential election.

AMONG the Masonic bodies of Cincinnati unusual interest is being shown in the approaching election. The merely "good fellows" will not be put forward for office as has sometimes happened.

JOE BLACKBURN has a considerable following in Kentucky for the U. S. Senatorship. His friends complain that Cerro Gordo Williams went too far in the matter of fixing things up previous to the election of the Legislature in August.

THE uniform railway time went into effect on nearly all the roads of the country, and no accidents from the change is reported. The Western Union Telegraph Company will adopt the time, and the Chicago Board of Trade is also to be called to order by it.

NAVIGATION has closed on the lakes, with a heavy stock of grain in Chicago. Prices fell off a little on Saturday in consequence. There were 313,000 hogs received during the past week, and 250,000 more are expected this week. Slaughtering has been actively begun.

A POSSIBLE topic at the coming session of Congress will be the Cheyenne and Arapahoe Indians' lease of 3,117,800 acres of grazing land at two cents an acre. The syndicate which got the lease, which runs for ten years, have just made the second half-yearly payment, aggregating over $31,000. Every man, woman and child of both tribes was paid $5, the money being in $1 and $2 greenbacks. The next payment will be in cattle, as the lease calls for half money and half cattle. In the Indian Territory it is believed that a number of United Senators and members of the House of Representatives are indirectly interested in the lease.

NUMEROUS are the interesting facts which appear in the report of the Surgeon General of the army for the fiscal year that ended June 30, 1883. None are more interesting, however, in the suggestions involved than that which states that among colored troops there is a larger proportion of the diseases of the nervous system than among the white. There is a peculiar reason for dwelling upon this feature, seeing that it is accompanied with the statement that the preponderance remains unexplained. This would imply that an effort had been made to discover the causes, but that these baffled skillful research. The organization of the average white man is commonly supposed to be more susceptible to the encroachment.

THE Westchester (Pa.) Local says: An interesting illustration of the manner in which dime novels act upon boys' brains has recently been given at Cleveland, where a boy aged fourteen was the organizer of a secret society, to be called "The Society of the Silver Skulls." The principles set forth by this delightful association included an unmitigated curse upon all those domestic and friendly relations which men hold dear, and the invocation of various appalling calamities upon whoever should prove a renegade. In the present age there is no reason why good and entertaining reading should not be furnished to boys and girls of all ages. Never has reading of this kind, intended especially for juveniles, so great abundance as at present. Never before have so many writers of talent, so many draughtsmen of skill and so many publishers of respectability, backed by money, lent their aid to supplying children with reading matter of the first order. The class of "literature," therefore, which comes under the denomination of dime novel ought to die. Those parents must be very unwatchful or extremely foolish who can allow their sons to pursue a course of reading, the tendency of which is to arouse the worse instincts and extinguish all the best. The Cleveland youth recently disappeared from his home, taking with him two revolvers. This looks as if he were going to join either the cowboys or the Indians, a little fraternization with whom would perhaps dissipate his ideals.

Card from Mr. Tayleure.

MAYSVILLE, November 19, 1883.

Editor Bulletin—Dear Sir: A reduction in the price of seats has been suggested. There are several strong reasons which forbid my consent. Permit me to quote two of the wisest practical importance. First, I cannot afford it; I pay Mr. and Mrs. Chanfrau considerably over $100 a night, my company (the best I could procure in New York) travel and printing cost $140 a night more; crowd the hall at $1 a seat and I should barely get back my expenses. I visit Maysville almost annually, because I like the town, but to ask me to confront a certain loss in order to gratify that liking, is neither wise nor fair. A second, and equally potent reason is that I have tried the "reduced price" experiment, but never with success; and how could I play for 75 cents here when the same accommodation commands $1 in Lexington and elsewhere. In New York and thereabouts $1.50 is charged for reserved seats. True the scenic equipments, &c., are superior, but to enjoy them the cost of a fare to that city should properly be counted. I am not responsible for the scenic deficiencies of your hall, but the same performance that one pays $1 to see in the north can here be witnessed for 75 and 50 cents. Cheap enough in all reason. Besides one cannot fairly expect to buy silks at prices usually paid for calicoes. I bring here two "stars," and a company crowned with the applause of Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, New Orleans, Louisville and every other American city, and surely they are worth being seen by the intelligent public of Maysville at a less average price than is demanded in the cities named. Respectfully,
CLIFTON W. TAYLEURE.

PROHIBITION has made great advances in Georgia within a few years. In order to ascertain just what the existing situation was in that respect the Atlanta Constitution recently addressed to county officers a circular which has elicited replies from 125 of the 146 counties in the State. From these responses it appears that total prohibition obtains in 55 counties and partial prohibition in 36; while from 25 comes reports that the prohibition movement has either been defeated or is regarded with indifference.

A Murder Explained.

From the Vancueburg Courier.

DEPUTY SHERIFF JOHN W. ALEXANDER yesterday received an interesting invitation that reads as follows:

Mr. John W. Alexander, Deputy Sheriff of Mason County, Ky.: You are respectfully invited to be present as a spectator at the execution of Luke Jones and Wm. Jones, the murderers of Anderson Lockett, in the court house yard, Jackson, Ohio, on Friday, Dec. 11, 1883. Guards will admit the person named in this invitation. W. B. CHERINGTON, Sheriff, Jackson county, Ohio.

The play last night at the Opera House attracted an audience of our most cultivated people, who were delighted with Mrs. Chanfrau's interpretation of the leading character, Isabel Vane, and they are prepared to believe all that the metropolitan press says of this charming and gifted lady. She will appear in "Parted" at the ladies' matinee this afternoon.

PERSONALS.

Miss Maggie Scudder is visiting her father, Mr. E. R. Scudder.

Mr. Robert Hall, brother of Prof. C. J. Hall, who visited Maysville several months ago, has been elected State Senator in Virginia by a handsome majority.

IRON is lower than after the panic of 1873, and some of the Pittsburgh mill owners believe that the dullness in the iron trade is to be repeated now. They seem fully determined to shut down. There is a report which could not be confirmed, that the Bessemer Steel Company have also ordered their fires out. In the iron region of Michigan the workman are causing trouble. The depression in trade comes from over-production, which has been rendered easy by increased facilities.

KIT.
Mr. Frank S. Chanfrau will appear at the Opera House this evening in "Kit," which is always a favorite with this community, and on this occasion, as on former ones, is certain to draw a crowded house. The following notice of Mr. Chanfrau in this character, is from the Baltimore American, of the 30th of October:

Frank S. Chanfrau produced that old favorite drama, "Kit, the Arkansas Traveler," last evening at Ford's Grand Opera House, and as usual attracted a large audience, in spite of the storm. The old favorite supported him, and Frank M. Williams, J. E. Conyers, as Judge Banks and Major Squires, were as jolly as they have ever been, and eager in pursuit of free drinks. Birdie Black, a mate of a child, was greatly applauded for her assumption of little Kit's daughter. In the first act, Miss Lizzie High appeared as Kit's wife, and subsequently as his daughter in the latter portion of the drama, the child being supposed to have grown up in the twelve years that have elapsed between the first and second act. The burning of the Medora and the fight with bowie knives between Kit and Major Squire, which was a grand scene, and which was well known, was written expressly for Mr. Chanfrau many years ago, by E. Spencer and C. W. Taylor, of the Baltimore Press.

The Philadelphia Record has the following to say of "Parted; or the Bankrupt's Wife":

It is a pleasure to note the engagement of Taylor's Combination in "Parted." The piece is intensely interesting. The cast is exceptionally strong—every part from the highest to the lowest, being filled by an expert. Henrietta Chanfrau, as "Grace Shirley," is very effective, and demonstrates her right to be ranked with the foremost in the profession. In the third act, where she bids her child kneel and pray that the enemies of her betrayed father shall be brought to justice, the audience become spell-bound with her burning eloquence and intonation. Fully two minutes elapsed ere the slightest sound was heard, and then all the pent-up enthusiasm of the sympathizing assemblage came forth in one long, loud burst of applause.

COUNTY POINTS.

TWO LICK.
J. W. Hinson's little child is getting well. Roy E. O. Pollard, assisted by Rev. Moore, is conducting a series of meetings at McKendree's Chapel. There have been some additions.

Several persons from here attended county court (a trading ring) last Monday. The Mason county and of the Mr. Oliver, is conducting a series of meetings at McKendree's Chapel. There have been some additions.

Johnnie Woodward and Mr. Gwynn, of Windom, Ky., are visiting here.

MURPHYSVILLE.
The most of our farmers are done killing hogs, and it may well be said that we are living on the fat of the land.

The turnpike road from here to Maysville is nearly completed, and those desiring to travel that way in the future will find the change very acceptable and pleasant compared to the old mud road with its many holes and hollows.

Rev. P. S. Politt preached here Monday night, the 19th inst.

We have some enterprise among our citizens, as will be seen by looking at the flouring mill of Geo. Wood, who has given it a new shingle roof, also his barn, which has been treated likewise.

Mr. A. Howard has erected a very fine corn crib which is above high water mark and rat proof.

Our school is flourishing under the management of Miss Little and accomplished teachers. Miss Little is a very capable and efficient teacher.

Mr. John Brookings is very low with consumption.

Washington Howe, W. S. Clift and Miller Gaubraith are numbered among the sick.

Our crops are not the best this year. Corn is short and light weight. Tobacco, some good, but the great bulk of the crop is inferior. The growing wheat looks very promising.

Rumor or somebody else says that we are to have a new school house in the spring. But as time will tell, we await patiently, hoping.

SARDIS.
At the close of the festival a handsome cake made by Mrs. Cora Belle & Arthur was presented to Messrs. Sait & Boulden by ladies of Sardis in token of their cleverness in furnishing their building for supper and guests.

The beautiful white cake which fell to your lot was made by Miss Mary Leachman. It was a daisy.

The music, vocal and instrumental, was furnished on the second night of the festival by Misses Carrie Dye, Lizzie Sait and Robert Taylor.

Receipts $75 both nights of the festival, which assures the building of the veranda to the parsonage.

A musical social was held at "Paytonia," on Saturday evening last, in honor of the bride, Mrs. Sait, who was the guest of honor. The young ladies who were on their costumes and the boys "follow suit."

Mr. H. T. Houliden and Miss Mollie Fitzpatrick took in the Tarleton-Simms reception at Bowman's Tavern, near Washington, on Saturday night last.

Mr. Will Dye and family have removed from the Owens place on Shannon to the farm of Lee Thomas near Helena. They are good people, and will be much missed by the neighbors.

The festival entertainment given for the benefit of the parsonage, by the ladies of Sardis, on the nights of the 13th and 14th inst., were social events most enjoyable. The entire house—the Arcade—had been rented throughout in superb style, and was placed at the disposal of the guests, who numbered over one hundred. Representatives from the best circles of society from this and neighboring towns were present. The gentlemen looked their best in their faultlessly-fitting dress suits, while the ladies were bewitching in evening toilets of satin, plush and costly silks, garnished with jewels that were not more dazzling than their pearls and teeth and bright eyes. Many wore opera bouquets and some of the corsage bouquets displayed by the young ladies, were made up of the choicest roses. All the rooms were thrown open and well lighted. The bachelors' party was a delightful and successful one. The evening was pleasantly beguiled with music—selections from opera and concert.

Lost Faith in Physicians.
There are innumerable instances where cures have been effected by Scoville's Sarsaparilla, or Blood and Liver Syrup, for all diseases of the blood, when the patient has been given up by physicians. It is one of the best remedies ever offered to the public, and as it is prepared with the greatest care, as a specific for certain diseases, it is no wonder that it is more effectual than hastily written and carelessly prepared prescriptions. Take Scoville's Blood and Liver Syrup for all disorders arising from impure blood. It is endorsed by all leading professional men.

INTERESTING CASE.

Lawyer Involving the Estate of the Late Madame Bonaparte.
BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 19.—In the suit of Baltimore City versus Chas. J. Bonaparte, executor of Madame Bonaparte, deceased, involving $30,000 back taxes, Judge Brown has decided that the taxes were not like ordinary claims, which it was necessary to prove before the Court, but it was the duty of the Administrator to pay the taxes without notice. An interesting point was that when personal property in the State was taxed, and the executor lived in Baltimore county, taxes should be imposed in the place where the deceased resided until a distribution of the property to the heirs was made. There was one portion of the estate consisting of bonds of the city of Philadelphia, and these bonds were exempted from taxation by the laws of Pennsylvania. The defense here contended that as our law exempted State bonds from taxation when exempt by the laws of the State authorizing their issue, it also ought to include city bonds, but Judge Brown decided that it was not so, thereby granting every point in favor of the city.

THE NEW TIME.

Generally Adopted Yesterday By All the Leading Lines.
TOPEKA, Kansas, Nov. 19.—The Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Road has adopted the Central time so far west as Dodge City, Kansas, and beyond that, Mountain time. COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa, Nov. 19.—Central time was adopted here yesterday. The Union Pacific will probably adopt Mountain time.
CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—The new standard of time known as the nineteenth meridian, or Central, was generally adopted in this city. All public clocks were set back nine minutes, and the new time was adopted by all the railroads centering in the city except the Illinois Central and Michigan Central, both of which will fall into line on Sunday next.

THE SPEAKERSHIP.

Randall Arrives Early on the Scene—The Situation.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19.—Additional zest has been given to the Speakership contest by the arrival of Mr. Randall, who visited Washington considerably earlier than he had expected to. In reply to a question he said that he had no cause to feel uneasy about the contest, and that his figures would be found correct when the caucus was held. Representative Morrison, who has come here in the interest of Mr. Carlisle, does not think favorably of Mr. Springer's candidacy, and says that the latter has no following, not even from his own State of Illinois.

THE CROWN PRINCE.

His Arrival in Genoa and Brilliant Reception.
GENOA, Nov. 19.—The Crown Prince Frederick William, of Prussia, arrived at midnight, and was warmly received, particularly by the German residents, who presented him with an address. The streets were crowded with people and the houses profusely decorated with flags, lanterns, etc. A salute was fired by the German squadron assembled in the harbor to escort the Crown Prince to Spain, and by two Russian men-of-war which arrived yesterday. The royal party embark for Spain to-day.

MURDEROUS ASSAULT.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 19.—Reports from Dixie, Perry county, Ark., state that Ferdinand Weiber, a prominent man in that German settlement, was shot and instantly killed at a festival in the Catholic church by a young man named Stevens. The latter, with several others, all drunk, created a disturbance. Weiber tried to quell it and was drawn into an altercation and killed. The murderer fled, but two possums are in pursuit. Weiber, who was well and widely known, leaves a family and considerable property.

Tseng Thinks There Will Be War.

PARIS, Nov. 19.—The Marquis Tseng, Chinese Ambassador to France, granted an interview to a reporter, in the course of which he officially denied that the United States has ever offered to mediate between France and China. The only offer of that nature had come from England and had been rejected by France in such a manner as to probably deter any other power from tendering a similar proposition. He thought the dispute between the two countries could hardly be settled now without war.

An Empty Bottle's Story.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Nov. 19.—A young woman stepped into the Barnard House and engaged lodgings for the night. When called to-day she did not respond. In the afternoon the room was broken open, and its occupants discovered dead. An empty bottle labeled "morphine" told the story. She had been an occupant of a bungalow here, and was unusually pretty. She had gone by various aliases, but her real name was not known.

The Rough Passage Across the Briny.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The steamer Riga, of the Hamburg line, which left Hamburg October 31 and Havre November 3, arrived at her dock in Hoboken four days late. She encountered heavy gales every day after leaving Havre, accompanied by heavy seas, which necessitated frequent slowing up. She received no damage from the rough treatment of the elements, and landed her passengers, numbering 1,300, all well.

Still Holding Out.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The Mail and Express and the Evening Post are still holding out against the demands of the striking printers, and, in front of the latter's office, the sign "Male or Female competitors wanted at 35 cents per 1,000 ems" is still conspicuously displayed. Mr. Caldwell, proprietor of the Sunday Mercury said that when visited by the Committee of the Union he made the concession demanded.

Mobbing Germans.

DORPAT, LITHUANIA, Nov. 19.—An anti-German mob to-day attacked the Gustavus Adolphus University, which is considered to be practically a German institute. They were repulsed by the Poles. Another mob surrounded a statue symbolizing the Rhine, and blew it up with dynamite. These outrages by Pan-Slavists are due to recent German utterances favoring the rehabilitation of the Kingdom of Poland.

New Disciple Church.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The "Disciples of Christ," the new sect with which the late President Garfield was connected from boyhood, dedicated a new house of worship in this city yesterday. The building is a modest structure on Thirty-sixth street, between Eighth and Ninth avenues. The dedication sermon was preached by Rev. J. D. Powers, of Washington.

Rev. Father Wilds' EXPERIENCE.
The Rev. Z. P. Wilds, well-known city missionary in New York, and brother of the late eminent Judge Wilds, of the Massachusetts Supreme Court, writes as follows:
"78 E. 54th St., New York, May 16, 1882.
MESSRS. J. C. AYER & Co., Gentlemen:
Last winter I was troubled with a most uncomfortable itching humor affecting most especially my limbs, which itched so intolerably at night, and burned so intensely, that I could scarcely bear any clothing over them. I was also a sufferer from a severe catarrh and cutaneous cough; my appetite was poor, and my system a good deal run down. Knowing the value of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, by observation of many other cases, and from personal use in former years, I began taking it for the above-named disorders. My appetite improved almost from the first dose. After a short time the fever and itching were allayed, and all signs of irritation of the skin disappeared. My catarrh and cough were also cured by the same means, and my general health greatly improved, until it is now excellent. I feel a hundred per cent stronger, and I attribute these results to the use of the SARSAPARILLA, which I recommend with all confidence as the best blood medicine ever devised. I took it in small doses three times a day, and used, in all, less than two bottles. I place these facts at your service, hoping their publication may do good.
Yours respectfully, Z. P. WILDS."

The Peculiar Old Mystery!
It was one of the peculiarities of the old-fashioned Doctors that they never would tell patients what they were prescribing for them. They said it would do the patients no good to know, and that it would only be gratifying a foolish curiosity. In order to keep patients from knowing, they would write the prescriptions in dog-Latin, so that most patients could not read them. All that sort of thing is now over. The patient wants to know what he takes. He is weak, and wants to be strong, or he is dyspeptic, and wants to digest well. Or he has a troublesome liver which he wants to put to rights. So he takes Brown's Iron Bitters about which there is no mystery at all. This is the best preparation of iron in the world, in combination with gentle yet efficient tonics. It gives strength. It builds up enfeebled systems. It enriches impoverished blood. It removes feminine weaknesses. It casts out debility. It is what you want, and your druggist has it. 2
